

R&D&I INDUSTRIAL CYBER SECURITY

As part of InprOTech's R+D+i team, it will carry out the following tasks:

- Research and analysis on available industrial cybersecurity solutions.
- Analysis and design of secure network architecture in industrial environments.
- Development of security analysis methodologies in industrial control systems and computer networks in industrial environments.
- Development of tools to increase safety levels in industrial control systems and the network in which they are located.
- Participation in joint projects with the Technology Centre.
- Design of solutions with cutting-edge technology such as Artificial Intelligence, Big Data and Cloud.
- Design of distributed solutions with centralized data analysis using Cloud techniques.

Requirements

- University education (degree or higher), preferably in the technological and/or industrial field.
- Less than 12 months of experience (with a contract in the group of contribution corresponding to your degree - groups 1 or 2).
- Knowledge and/or experience in Research and Development (R+D+i).
- Valuable: knowledge and/or experience in OT (Operational Technology).
- Valuable: knowledge and/or experience in cybersecurity
- Valuable: knowledge and/or experience in Big Data technology.
- Valuable: knowledge and/or experience in Cloud technology.
- Valuable: knowledge and/or experience in Artificial Intelligence
- Professional command of the English language. Other languages are welcome.
- Business and results oriented.
- Planning and organizational skills.
- Availability to travel.
- Residence in the Vigo area of influence preferred.

It's offered

- Growing company with great possibilities of professional development and very good working environment with a young and dynamic staff.
- Initial and continuous training (90h) in: Industry 4. 0 and Industrial Cybersecurity; Project Management; and Management and Office Tools.
- Permanent contract in group 1 or 2 (depending on qualifications) in a consolidated Galician company with a salary over 19,000 euros depending on value and other social benefits.
- Collaboration with Galician Technological Centre with specialization in cyber security.